SUMMARY OF INFORMATION:

The target is a moving object. It is large and heavy. It seems to be moving in a cloud of grey smoke. It moves or drives on a track with four large wheels, one smaller wheel, all on each side. The bottom part is straight and moves straight. The top part of it is curved on both sides and can spin or rotate from left to right-right to left. It has a long, narrow, tube protruding near the middle, on one end of it. This tube object "shoots". It is possible that it "searches" its target when it shoots. There is a gritty, oil, machinery smell to this object. The outside of it is not smooth, it is jagged and bumpy. There seem to be more than one of these objects, but they are not together. But together they form some kind of pattern, between them there is a hole in the middle.

In the inside of this object it is crowded. It seems large on the outside, but there are many different types of gadgets inside. The gadgets are mostly round, shiny, black and white. They have numbers on them that move in sequence. I cannot make out the letters. But there are many of them all over the inside walls. The only letters I can make out is "BASTRAVA". The letter are very straight and foreign. Not English, Spanish or German. The wall "clangs" when you hit it. There is a round, narrow thing on the inside that protrudes from the floor. It is large, but it does not reach the ceiling. There are four people in here. I feel like there could be more people, but I only see four. Every one of them has a purpose or a specific job to do. There is one man that is up in front looking out of two small glass windows. He has dark hair, a mustache and glasses. There are two men that are on each side of the round thing in the middle. They seem to be doing something with it. There is one man located in the back of this object. It is almost too narrow to have that many people inside. But seems that one could sleep in here, as there is a cot that folds down, but it is slanted and not flat. The sides of the object are also curved on the inside up to the ceiling, but the ceiling is flat and narrow. I cannot figure out how this thing moves, or who "drives" it, but it can move slowly and also very fast. It reminds me of a tank, but not a U.S. tank. It is more Soviet.
